DETAILED ACTION

Claims 12-21 presented in the previous amendment were not considered in the Final Rejection mailed 12 October 2006. For this reason a new Office Action is being mailed, including action on the merits of claims 12-21, and a retarding of the time period for response.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims 8-11 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in the previous office action dated 23 February 2006. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7, 12-14, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rodth in view of Telco.

There is disclosed in Rodth a beverage cartridge, comprising: an outer member 11 defining a storage chamber in which is stored a beverage ingredient; an upper opening for the outer member, the opening having a peripheral rim; a lid 25 covering the opening; an inner member 17 having a discharge spout 19, 21 forming an outlet for outflow of beverage; a filter 24 disposed between the storage chamber and discharge spout.

Telco discloses the use of a weld to secure a member within a beverage cartridge.

While Rodth fails to disclose that the inner member is attached to the outer member, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to secure the inner member within the outer member by use of a weld as taught in Telco, in order to provide a one piece unit and reduce the need for additional parts.

In regards to the use of a weld to join the lid to the peripheral rim of the outer member, such is an obvious matter of design choice over the sealing method used in Rodth.

In regards to the use of a secondary weld, such appears to describe more of a method of manufacturing the cartridge as opposed to a structural limitation to the cartridge itself. It should be noted that the method of manufacture in an apparatus claim is given no patentable weight.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15, 16 and 19-21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 08 May 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that there is no motivation provided for the proposed combination of references.

In response to Applicant's argument, the Examiner recognizes that references cannot be arbitrarily combined and that there must be some reason why one skilled in the art would be motivated to make the proposed combination of primary and secondary references. However, there is no requirement that a motivation to make the modification be expressly articulated. The test for combining references is what the combination of disclosures taken as a whole would suggest to one of ordinary skill in the art.

References are evaluated by what they suggest to one versed in the art, rather than by their specific disclosures. In this case, the Telco reference suggest the use of a one piece cartridge unit which could be accomplished by the use of welding parts together.

In regards to the use of ultrasonic welding and joining of elements in one operation, such are considered operational steps and fail to further limit, structurally, the claimed invention.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
